ABSTRACT : A tax is not a voluntary payment or donation, but an enforced contribution imposed by government under the names of toll duty, custom, excise, subsidy or other name. The Goods and Service Tax (GST) which was introduced from July 2017 by the Government of India is a value added tax, which is the only indirect tax that directly affects all sectors and sections of our economy.

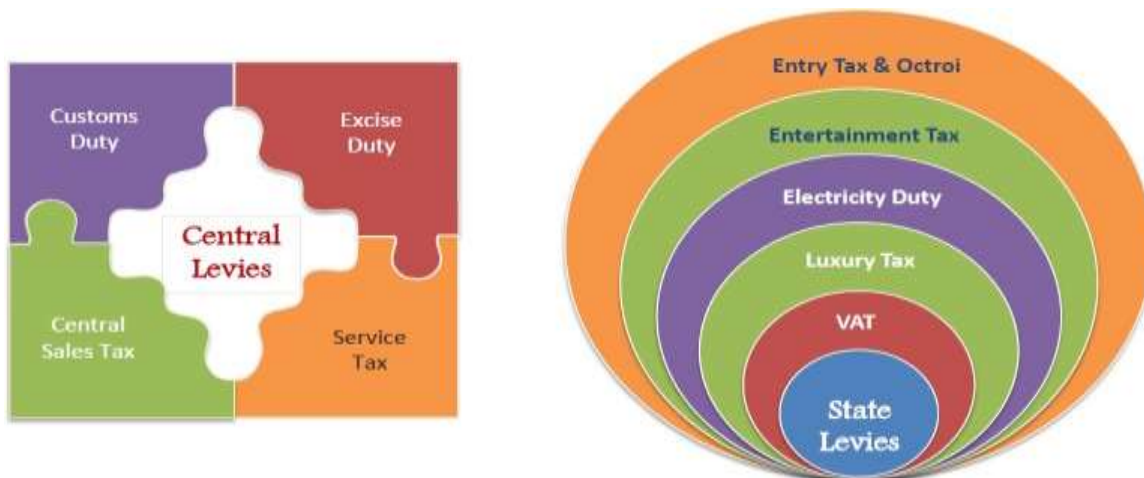

In this paper I have dealt in detail the impacts of GST, though its various objectives and features in strengthening the Indian economy. Further the impact of Integrated Goods and Service Tax (IGST), have been discussed at length in benefitting the individuals, importers, exporters and organization.

Keywords : Goods and service Tax, Integrated Goods and Service Tax, Impact, custom, excise and subsidy

INTRODUCTION OF GST:

Introduction of value added tax (VAT) at the central and state level has been considered to be a major step, an important step forward in the indirect tax reforms in India. If the VAT is a major improvement over the pre-existing central excise duty at the national level and the sales tax system at the state level, then the Goods and Service Tax (GST) will indeed be an additional important perfection, the next logical step towards a wide spread indirect tax reforms in the country. In India GST was first proposed in 2000 but it came into effect from 1st July 2017. This was implemented under GST Act 101, Amendment bill 122. The finance minister Mr. Arun Jetliay is the current chairman of GST council with New Delhi as its head quarters. The chairman of GST finance minister council is Amit Mishra. There are 160 countries which adopts GST in which India is one of the country. Out of 160 countries France was the first country to adopt GST followed by other countries. In India GST is based on the China's dual cost model which is being followed by Canada. The dual cost model consists of three types namely Central Goods and Service Tax (CGST), State Goods and Service Tax (SGST) and the Integrated Goods and Service Tax (IGST). The first state to pass the GST was Telungana followed by other states and Assam is the first state to ratify GST bill. The GST council was formed based on Article 279A.

CONCLUSION:

GST is the most logical steps towards the comprehensive indirect tax reform in our country since independence. By the way of introducing GST effective coordination between Centre and State tax administrations is achieved. Establishment and up gradation of IT framework is achieved by GST. By the way of implementing GST, anti-profiteering provision is made to dis-incentivize non-passing of price reduction benefits to consumers. Inter-State supply of goods or services is achieved by GST so as to increase the Indian economy. Hence GST is expected to pick up tax collections and enhance India's economic development by breaking tax barriers between States and integrating India through a identical tax rate system.
